“The heart reveals to the mouth” takes place through the Torah. God reveals His heart to us in the Torah. On Simchat Torah, God rejoices in the Torah and in Israel, the Torah rejoices in God and in Israel and Israel rejoices in God and the Torah. God ‘needs’ the Torah in order for His heart to reveal to His mouth.

Torah of the Heart Romans 10:5-11 Delivered 04/01/2012. We are back in Romans 10 this morning. Let me just remind you that Romans 9-11 is a theodicy, a defense of God. I believe that this is the greatest vindication of God's righteousness and justice found anywhere in the pages of Scripture. This theodicy is necessary in light of what Paul had ...

Torah of the Heart - Romans 10:5-11: Berean Bible Church

The first word of Torah, B'reishit, means "in the beginning" (Gen 1:1). When we combine the lamed, the last letter of Yisrael, with the bet, the first letter of B'reishit, we create the Hebrew word lev, which means "heart" – a reminder that very heart of Torah lies in starting it again and studying anew, year after year.

The Heart of Torah, Volume 1 : Nebraska Press

The Torah's stories, laws and poetry stand at the center of Jewish culture. They chronicle God's creation of the world, the selection and growth of the family of Abraham and Sarah in relationship to God in the land of Canaan, the exile and redemption from Egypt of that "family-become-nation" known as Israel, and their travels through the desert until they return to the land of Canaan.
